THIS BEING VOLUME ELEVEN

Chippewa Falls High School

Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin

THE CHIPPEWA HIGH SCHOOL

*The Chippewa High School! Long years ago my school,
It stands on a hill like some palace in Rome.
The building I sat in while learning my Latin
Was farther down town and much farther from home.
Yes, down on old Bay Street to studies we glided
And great was the grief of each lad and each lass
To learn that all Gaul in three parts was divided
Or flirt with Old X in our algebra class!*

II.

*We battled with rhetoric, physics and hist'ry;
We dabbled in chemistry early and late.
We sampled geometry's angular myst'ry
And settled Life's problems in speech and debate.
And when we had mastered the lore of all ages
And read about Lear and Mark Antony's wife,
We came to Commencement, that stage of all stages,
And "launch'd our frail barks on the vast sea of Life!"*

III.

*Old days of young dreams! Days of hope and endeavor!
Dear school time illusions the years have dispelled!
Ah, once these old days have departed forever
How vainly we grope for the pleasures they held!
Grant each present student a future all splendid!
Thus prays an old student return'd to the scene
To gaze once again on the school he attended
While twenty-five years cast their shadows between!*

—WILLIAM F. KIRK, '94.

DEDICATION

In spite of, or perhaps because of, our democracy, there is in our smaller American cities very frequently one man round whom the social life of the community centers; one who has pre-eminently the confidence and esteem of his fellow citizens, won not by birth or position but by a life of integrity and kindness. If asked the name of the man who occupies this proud place in the hearts of the people of Chippewa Falls, no resident of our city would hesitate for an instant. We have one among us whom we all delight to honor. His name is associated with the work of the pioneer, the conquering of the forest, the development of our institutions of business, commerce and education. The old look upon him with pride as a leader but no less as a comrade and friend. Those of us who are younger look up to him as a benefactor and as an example of true American manhood. His name is linked in our minds with the joys of childhood, the happiest hours of our youth. We have learned to know nature better, to appreciate and love God's great out-of-doors because of his gift to the city of the beautiful park of which we are all so proud.

It is to this friend and benefactor, Mr. WILLIAM IRVINE, that we respectfully dedicate this volume of our High School Annual as a tribute of our grateful appreciation of his interest in the young people of our city, and as an expression of our affection and esteem.

Monocle Editorial

The 1919 MONOCLE is here. If you have any bouquets or tempers to throw now is the time to let them go. The members of the staff have all trains booked so that we may leave town at the first approach of the storm.

If the contents of this book do not meet with your approval confide in a friend but don't come to the staff!!!

To those we have slammed we beg pardon, but to those we have not, we apologize for not doing so.

We have said nothing but the truth and we hope you recognize it in its disguise. If your pictures do not flatter you ask the photographer but not us. We will now leave you to look over the book hoping you will not feel prejudiced against,

THE STAFF.

The Staff wishes to thank all those generous minded people who so kindly helped to make this book a success. We especially wish to thank:

Paul Hoffer, who, though not a member of the Staff, gave freely of his time and ability whenever called upon.

The Commercial Department in general for the excellent manner in which our material was typed for us.

And all those teachers and students who were patient and gave cheer to The Weary Monocle Workers.

The Monocle

Principal A. G. FINDLAY

Entered the service as principal of the Chippewa Falls Public High School 1909; and served until June 4, 1919.

He was instrumental in turning out many of the strongest foot-ball teams in the state and in training some of the greatest players in the history of the game. But his greater success was in the academic work of the school. He believed in measuring merit by results. Results attested by the high standard of his own class room work, and the merit attained by pupils of the school in interscholastic competition and by the success of the graduates of the period of his incumbency.

His greatest asset was his deep and abiding faith in boys and girls.

Mr. Findlay leaves the school work to become District Manager of the Travelers Insurance Co. He takes with him the best wishes for success and the cordial good will of the school.

SENIOR HISTORY

Four years have passed since first we entered Chippewa High, not long, for the years were all too short. We entered afraid, for Freshmen are timid, and the law of Human Nature will always decree that they be so.

But fear, like all things, wears away and soon we were hard-working Sophomores, then Juniors and lastly Seniors. It was as Seniors that we began to realize what the world held in store for us, and as Seniors we knew what the High School meant to us. All of us felt a little in our hearts a desire to go back, but there was no going back. It was Onward, and the Class of '19 will go Onward!

As we were in school, so shall we be in later life. We can indeed feel proud that seven of our boys wear the C. F. sweater. This shows how well we were represented in athletics. We also did our share in Forensics and the boys of '19 helped to organize the Novum Forum and make it permanent. As for the girls, we have the best, the brightest and most intelligent, the kind that makes America what it is.

The members of the Senior Class can go out into the world and do their share of the work, just as we did our share in school.

We are proud of our record. Just as the boys who left us to go into the service, we expect also to go into the service of our country and be better able to do the work, with the training we got in Chippewa Falls High School.

W. H. B., '19.

The Monocle

The entire High School constituency has been veiled in grief and sorrow. The unexpected and untimely death of Harry Lowater is the saddest blow within the memory of the present student body.

Harry Lowater was born in Spring Valley, March 29, 1900, and died of pneumonia at Chippewa Falls, March 19, 1919. Harry will be remembered as one of our fine athletes. He participated in football and track and proved himself a very able basketball manager.

Harry endeared himself to all because of his happy and generous disposition. He was a promising young man with a bright future and his loss will be keenly felt. He had a host of friends both in and out of school because at all times he was ready to be of some assistance to his comrades.

H. L.

He joyed in life and life held out to him great treasures, great rewards, great happiness. Fortune was kind to him. Health, strength was his, and each day dawned on him as a caress.

That he must go! Of all so bright and gay. Yet he is gone and we are left forlorn. We miss him, comrade, schoolmate, from our midst. He was our friend. We miss him and we mourn.

You were so strong, so gay.
Life seemed so full for you
Now we who loved you true
Grieve, for you passed away.

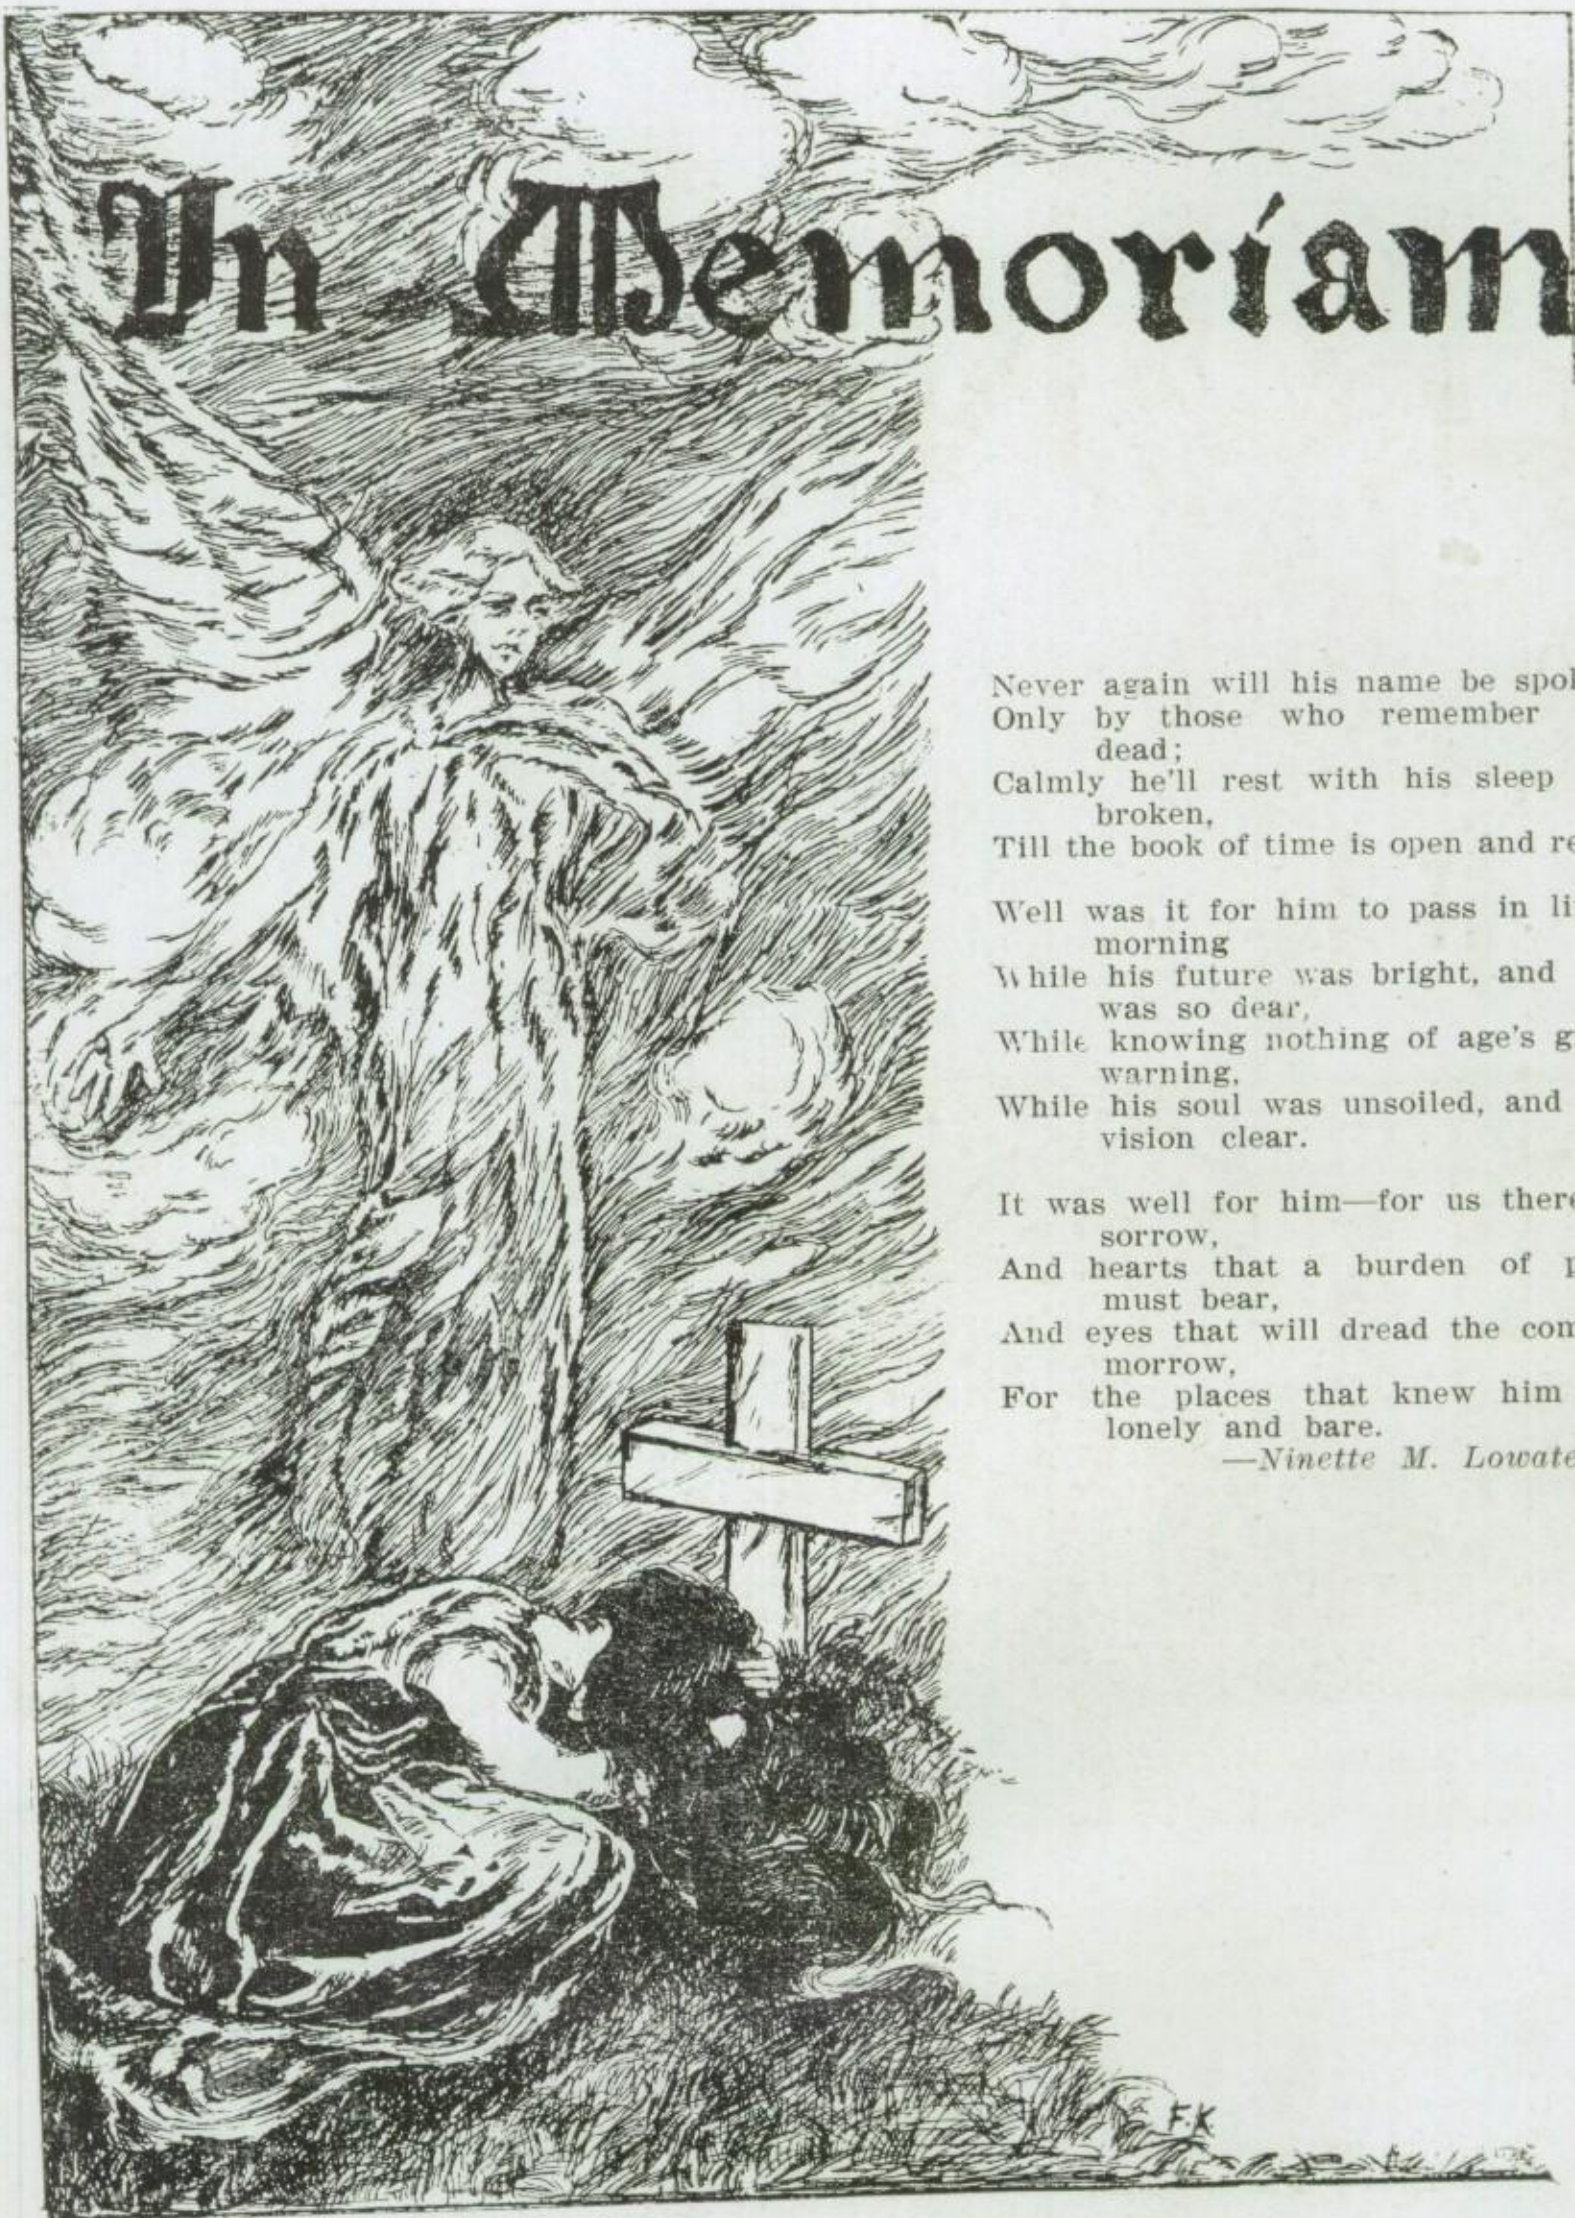

You left us all forlorn
Dear Comrade, schoolmate. Rest!
But we who loved you best

Miss you, dear friend, and mourn.

—M. S.

In Memoriam

Never again will his name be spoken
Only by those who remember the dead;
Calmly he'll rest with his sleep unbroken,
Till the book of time is open and read.

Well was it for him to pass in life's morning
While his future was bright, and life
was so dear,
While knowing nothing of age's grim
warning,
While his soul was unsoiled, and his vision clear.

It was well for him—for us there is sorrow,
And hearts that a burden of pain
must bear,
And eyes that will dread the coming
morrow,
For the places that knew him are lonely and bare.

MILDRED MEYER, Vice-President

DOROTHY IHLE, Secretary and Treasurer

Like all Junior classes we are perfectly confident that this is the best Junior class that has passed the portals of the Chippewa Falls High School for the past ten years. Our teacher said that this is the most brilliant, santillating, clever class that she has ever seen. (Of course we admit this is laid on thick but who else will blow our cornet but ourselves?) I'll repeat that we think we are the whole cheese and we aren't limberger cheese, but fine perfumed Pimento cheese. We lean to the gentler arts. Who represents the school in oratory, and declamation but the Juniors? We have excellent musicians, actors, artists, etc., etc. We choose the most distinguished officers to represent our class. Furthermore we are ably backed by sufficient athletic brains to secure for us a happy medium—the ideal class. I don't know what else we've done worth doing but whatever else there is worth doing we'll admit it. We are very modest. There is not the slightest dash of braggadacio. That's us all over—maybe yes, maybe no.

DORIS CARTER, President

SUE WILEY, Secretary and Treasurer

There are seventy-five thoroughly twentieth century individuals in our class, each with a controlled rubberized steel backbone and there are none, therefore, so unfortunate as to possess the sad substitute, a "cotton thread."

We are ably represented in declamatory. We were in the football squad and the basketball team, starring in both.

We gave a party the twenty-seventh of April which proved a great success. Down in the gym some of us rocked the heavy common place.

As to class characteristics our most marked are: 1. A profound deliberation manifested especially in our class meetings; 2. A keen and true scent for trouble. A few of the fairer sex are super-human in this trait (they must often bear the burden of its results), and 3. A facility in being not at all punctual, yet not too tardy, several young men herein excelling.

To make a long story short, we constitute a resurrected Atlas, carrying the whole High School on our shoulders. It is not weighty, for we are strong.

WATCH THE FRESHMEN BOOST

About one hundred pupils entered Chippewa Falls High School last fall. As Chippewa is the county seat, many students were from other towns. Despite the fact that many of us were strangers to each other we quickly became acquainted.

In November we had our first party. Then all the upper classmen could be heard to say, "Well, our little Freshmen are starting to amuse themselves," or, "Well, our baby friends are going to have a party." These remarks didn't have any effect on the freshies though; they kept right on going, and didn't pay any attention to those who had more to say than do. When anyone tried to make a funny remark about the freshmen he would always say, "You have to be a freshy before you are a senior so what's the diff?"

The present Freshman class is going to be the best class that ever went through good old Chippewa Falls High School.

ATHENA

Athena, the girls' literary society of this High School, was organized in 1911. Its membership is limited to fifty and this number is composed of girls from the two upper classes. The new members are chosen by the society and are afterwards voted upon by the Faculty who rule out those whose school work is not creditable and whose school attitude is not desirable.

The bi-monthly meetings of the Athena are truly enjoyable. The programs offer a wide variety, music, readings, and impromptue speaking are some of the more regular features, and these tend to make the members more capable of appearing before an audience, thus fulfilling one of the purposes of the Athena.

The officers of the society are as follows: President, Winifred Forrester; Vice-President, Mildred Cameron, and the Secretary, Mildred Olson.

Athena owes much of its success this year to the interest that Miss Grover has displayed in its meetings.

One of the most successful parties held in the high school this year, was the one given by the Athena to Novum Forum, on the evening of Feb. 22, 1919, in the gymnasium. There was a good program, some of whose numbers consisted of music, readings and singing, then the remainder of the evening was given over to dancing and later refreshments were served.

Everyone who attended, voted the evening's entertainment a complete success.

TEACHERS' TRAINING CLUB

The Teachers' Training Club is a comparatively new club in the High School, having been organized as recently as February, 1916. Its members are the Senior girls in the teachers' training work, and the officers of the society are: President, Julia Horn; Vice-President, Ruth Eggers; Secretary, Mildred Olson.

The meetings of the club are held every other Thursday evening and the programs consist of games, songs and other features which the girls may find useful in the schools which they will teach.

The club is organized to give its members training for their coming work in the rural schools, and has proved very popular among the girls of the Training Department.

NOVUM FORUM

Novum Forum or the Boys' Literary Society is a new addition to the clubs in the High School. It was organized in January, 1919, and its membership is limited to fifty.

The purpose of this society is to train its members in power to speak before an audience and to give them practice in parliamentary law, as well as adding to their social life. Its members also aim to make themselves generally useful to the school and school activities.

Novum Forum meets every other Tuesday, thus alternating with the Athena.

The officers of this association are as follows: President, Walter Blucher; Vice-President, Hugh Brenner; Secretary, Barney Abramson; Treasurer, Fred Curtis; and Censor, James Gentry. The Honorary Members are: Mr. Banting, Mr. Findlay, Miss Jenkins, Miss Enright and Miss Grover.

The motto of Novum Forum is: "Perseverance Wins Wonders."

DECLAMATION

In spite of the delay caused by the numerous vacations last fall, those interested in declamation lost little spirit or enthusiasm in the work.

With the exception of two Freshmen, the fourteen girls who responded for declamatory work were from the Sophomore and Junior classes. The results of the semi-preliminary contest held March 21 and finished on the following Monday are as follows: Marguerite Rea, Helen Mandelert, Pearl Robarge, Marcella Smith, Louise Kroll. All of the participants fully appreciate the interest Miss Fitz-Gibbon has shown in their behalf, and the training she has given them.

The preliminary declamatory contest was held April 21, 1919. The results of the contest were: First, Helen Mandelert; Second, Pearl Robarge.

THE DISTRICT DECLAMATORY CONTEST

The District Declamatory contest which was held in Menomonie on May 2, 1919, resulted very favorably for Chippewa Falls, Helen Mandelert procuring second place in declamation.

Six boys participated in the semi-preliminary oratorical contest held April 10th, and their success exceeded all expectations. The results of the contest were: First, Francis Joas; Second, William Hagen; Third, Carl Hagen, and Fourth, Ray Weiler. The preliminary contest will be held in the near future.

The boys owe much to Mrs. Christianson's valuable aid and instruction.

The preliminary oratorical contest was held, together with declamation, on the evening of April 21, 1919. The judges rendered the following decision: First, William Hagen; Second, Ray Weiler.

The results in oratory were as excellent as in declamation. In the District Contest which occurred in Eau Claire, May 2, 1919, second place was awarded to William Hagen.

DEBATE TEAM

W. BLUCHER, H. BRENNER, E. FRIEDMAN, MISS JENKINS, K. STONE,
F. CURTIS, M. GRADLER

The question chosen for debate this year is one of the most momentous questions before the public today. It was: Resolved, that a League of Nations to maintain permanent peace is practicable.

The team with the exception of Walter Blucher, consisted of new members. A change also took place this year which gave some variety to the debate, a girl was chosen on each team.

The affirmative team consisting of Walter Blucher, Esther Friedman and Hugh Brenner, met Eau Claire in our auditorium and although Eau Claire fought desperately, we defeated them.

Our negative team consisting of Fred Curtis, Marguerite Gradler and Kenneth Stone, journeyed to Menomonie, and although they made a splendid effort, Menomonie gained the decision.

Although the question was a difficult one our debaters handled it ably and effectively.

Great thanks is due Miss Jenkins for her splendid coaching and her sincere interest in the work.

We hope that the enthusiasm displayed in debate this year will continue in the future, and that our teams of next year may continue the good work.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

They ask, "What is the 'Cercle Francais?' " To the many inquiries, we answer, "It is a French Club, composed of the most 'brilliant' members of the French class, of course." And so we were organized. We have, as all good clubs do have, a President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer. We meet once every two weeks and converse "en Francais," that is, we try to, and if any one happens to make a mistake, we very graciously overlook it. Our programs have to deal with French customs, French manners, etc., and all aim to give us a better idea of life in France.

Our club has a social as well as an intellectual side. We have social meetings in the gymnasium once every month, at which time we enjoy ourselves at dancing and other amusements.

Our first French party was a "booming" success, and that orchestra surely was peppy. Of course you all know why the party was given: to raise money for the re-adoption of our little French orphan.

We charged admission for this dancing party, but this sum was not sufficient to keep our little orphan for another year. So some of the members of the club passed around an imitation orphan in the assembly room one morning for a contribution, and we finally received enough funds to make out our required amount. The name of our orphan is Helene Lutel and her home is in the district of the Aube river. We have received many letters from her which are interesting. Following is one of her letters which gives one a good idea of her life:

St. Andre, October 22, 1918.

DEAR FRIENDS:

It was with great pleasure that I received your letter as well as your photograph. I am very happy over it for I was afraid that you had not received mine.

Now I am returning to school. In France we have only two months of vacation from the first of August to the first of October. That is long enough, for at the end, one is weary of not being with his little friends. For me this is my last year. After this winter I will help my mother, for I will be thirteen years old the second of May.

I hope that you are all in good health. Here we see many Americans, for we live in the country near Croyes and we are always very happy to see the soldiers at the station.

Never will we be able to thank you enough for the aid which you have sent us. Thanks to your soldiers we will soon win the victory.

Mother joins me in sending you our sincere thanks.

Your little friend who thinks of you often,

HELENE.

HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

This is the second year in the existence of a High School Orchestra. Most of its present members belonged to the one organized by Mr. Hester and Miss Grover last year.

The orchestra now contains 10 pieces including four violins, a mandolin, a cornet, two horns, a drum and the piano.

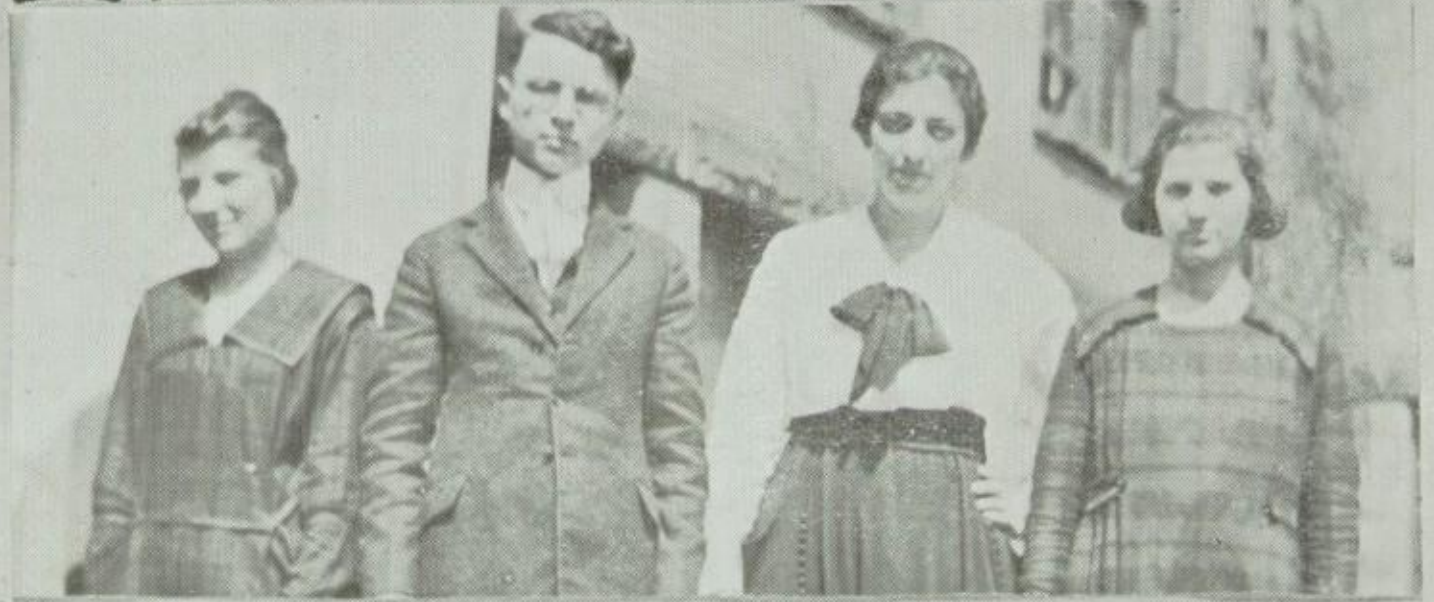

The members of the orchestra have practiced diligently twice a week, under the able leadership of Miss Grover, and have played in public at various times, viz.: for morning exercises, Night School party, Novum Forum and at the Methodist church.

The school feels very proud of its orchestra and appreciates its every effort.

COMMERCIAL

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

F. HANZLIK, W. BLUCHER, MISS OWEN, W. FORRESTER

The High School has without a doubt one of the best Commercial departments in the state. Not only does this department excel in the matter of Shorthand and Typewriting, but in all other work as bookkeeping and accountancy also.

All the business carried on in the school is in charge of the Commercial department and they have done the work successfully. One of the features of this department is the student bank, in which regular banking work is carried on.

In shorthand and typewriting, we have been somewhat fortunate this year. At the district contest held in Eau Claire on May 3, in which Durand, Menomonie, Eau Claire and Chippewa Falls were represented, Chippewa succeeded in taking all the honors.

Those who represented the school were Elsa Johnson and Walter Blucher in typewriting and Winnefred Forrester and Walter Blucher in shorthand. Walter Blucher succeeded in getting first in both the shorthand and typewriting contests and Elsa Johnson second in typewriting while Winnifred Forrester got second in the shorthand.

The shorthand contest was a tie, but Winnefred had one word more misspelled than Walter so the decision was awarded as it was.

These three people will represent the school in the State Contest, held at White-water, May 17.

The departments in the school are fortunate in having instructors who know their business in the real sense of the word. The equipment is up-to-date, thus helping materially to make the work a success.

THE PLAY

The play? Wasn't it fine? Why it was simply a scream from start to finish, and each character did his part so very well indeed that there wasn't an uninteresting moment in the whole play.

People started coming as early as seven o'clock and by eight the auditorium was so packed that there wasn't room for the teeniest person more, and after the orchestra had played several selections, the curtain began to groan and creak and slowly, slowly rose, disclosing Jocelyn as Lady Crackenthorp, reclining on the sofa. Enter, Marie as Millicent—and the play begins.

Weren't Jimmy and Peggy wonderful? Pearl was all-of-a-sudden "all right" and it kept Melvin busy getting her out of scrapes, and as for Anthony and Mrs. O'Mara—well the audience started laughing the minute they entered, and continued laughing long after they left. Everyone else was just as good as they so that when the bell tinkled and the curtain finally went slowly down for the last time, everyone exclaimed, "Why, it is the best play I have seen in years.

THE TEAM

PAUL HOFFER, Captain—

Was the axis on which the team worked. Our success was the result of his sure and steady playing.

In the ability of recovering the ball he had no equal. He seldom made long shots, but his aggressiveness brought him close to the basket and made him the highest scorer on the team.

From the toss of the ball till the whistle, Paul fought his hardest with a "never say die" will.

With his graduation the school will lose a star player and a staunch supporter of Old Chippewa's Glory.

Paul's enthusiasm was always contagious. The spirit with which he encouraged the players was free and genuine.

Besides playing well himself he showed others how to play and encouraged them to greater efforts. His ability as a leader has always been recognized, and the praise received was well deserved.

LYLE DONOVAN, Center—

Donovan is the sophomore you hear so much about, and he has much dormant ability yet to be awakened. Donovan with his fast playery and accurate shooting will most likely be picked as a state man before he graduates.

RANDOLPH CONNORS, Right Guard—

"Red" lived up to expectations, winning the smiles of the girls and the scowls of the opposing team. He always played a steady guarding game and a whirlwind offensive, and was the constant worry of his opponent. He was handicapped from showing up at the tournament on account of a red boil on the end of his nose. Too bad, Red. Better luck next team.

RICHMOND CONNERS, Guard—

Richie played a good, consistent game throughout the season. Richie was particularly strong on the defense and helped the team to win because of his general alertness.

Had it not been because of age disqualification, Richie would have shared in the tournament.

The Monocle

This was Lunney's first appearance in a basket ball suit, but with his form and the perseverance that comes from regular habits he was the unanimous choice for left forward, always playing a clean and fast game.

HAROLD LEAHY, Left Guard—

Bud came from Cornell under the disguise of a minister's son and pulled off the unexpected. After the first few weeks of practice his position was sure, but Leahy wasn't the man to lay down on account of that. Although not a point maker he was a point saver, and I might add that a valedictorian is rarely found in a basket ball suit.

SCHUYLER JOHNSON, Substitute Guard—

"Pipe," our long, lean, lanky friend, certainly did do wonders for us. Had Pipe had the experience of some of the rest of the fellows, there would have been keen competition for the places. As it was, Pipe was always on the job, ready, willing, and eager.

CHARLES GRIFFIN, Substitute Guard—

"Chuck," our ever smiling guard, was ever ready to jump into the game. He was as much a member of the team as any other individual. In the tournament, Chuck helped the team to uphold its reputation for good playing.

BASKETBALL

Our basketball season of '19 was without a doubt the greatest in the history of the school. Without any football we immediately directed our energy to basketball and the result was very gratifying. The health board abrogated our activities for a while, but as the conditions grew better they repealed their order. At first we had no coach, but with the coming of Mr. Lindholm to the helm, our chances of success were greatly enhanced.

Of the old team there were Hoffer, Donovan, and Red Conners, and the new recruits were Leahy, Richmond Conners, Griffin, Johnson, and Lunney. The team generally lined up with Hoffer and Lunney forwards, Leahy and Red, guards and Donovan, center, but, with all respect to the first team I can say that the subs showed their mettle every time they were given a chance, thus making every man on the first team work for his position.

Our first game was with Thorpe, and as they were reputed to have a good team we were a little "leery," but after five minutes of play the superiority of the Red and White was easily seen. The score was 43 to 25.

On the thirty-first of January we were to play Mondovi, but like Bloomer, Stanley and Rice Lake, they didn't care to get beat, so they cancelled the games. In order not to disappoint the crowd we had a Y. M. C. A. team come up from Eau Claire and play. We easily defeated them by an overwhelming score, 62-5.

On February 7, Menomonie came to Chippewa and went home without their scalps and with a broken nose. The game was rough but very fast, and Chippewa showed wonderful teamwork. The score was 34-23.

Our first game out of town was with Neilsville, and when we arrived they met us with a band and half the population. After doing a snake dance up the street they led us to the High School and entertained us. After supper about seven hundred fans crowded the large armory, and proceeded to raise the roof with their intense spirit. It was too bad that Chippewa had to spoil their fine evening, but we brought the bacon home. After the game a fine lunch and dance were given the players and it nearly caused our ruin, for the next day we played them at Chippewa and only beat them by a small score. The score of the first game was 44-25, and the score of the second ended 23-16.

The next game was with our historical rival, Eau Claire. This game had been discussed for months and when the night came the gym could not accommodate the crowd. We were defeated by 23-18, but the crowd went away satisfied that we were just as good as the other team.

On the next Thursday we played them at Eau Claire and sure enough we beat them 21-20. The team deserves much praise for this game, for, with ten minutes left to play, the score was 18-5 in their favor, but by a wonderful comeback we crumpled the Purple and White and redeemed ourselves.

The sectional tournament was held under the auspices of the Eau Claire Normal and there were fifteen teams represented. We drew Eau Claire for the first game and were defeated which eliminated us. The team was in no condition to play as three members were sick with the influenza and should not have been allowed on the floor, but we did not have enough men to substitute so we were defeated.

Six of the squad graduate this year so the next year's team will be practically new, but by hard and industrious work the new fellows can have a wonderful team for there is Donovan, Griffin, Carlson, and Casper to build on.

FOOTBALL

The '18-'19 season of athletics may be considered a successful one for Chippewa Falls. Although we did not have a football team, we more than made up for it in basketball and track. There were various conditions which made it impossible for us to have a football team, notably the existing health conditions, i. e. the "Flu," and war conditions which put a stop to all non-essential activities.

If we were allowed to play I am certain the old Chippewa spirit would have predominated and the Red and White would have come out victorious, for with such men as Hoffer, Donovan, Lunney, Hogseth, Conners, Perrinoud, Risteen, Griffen, Lowater, and Johnson back, no aggregation in the state could have stopped the boys.

We had a very strong schedule ahead of us, playing such teams as River Falls Normal, Stevens Point Normal, La Crosse High School, and Eau Claire. As only a few men graduate the chance of success for next year looms just as bright as ever, and a world-beating team is predicted.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Girls' Athletic Association of this High School was organized last year through the efforts of Miss Boll. This year with the excellent help of Miss Enright, the girls have again made a success of it. The officers who were selected at the last meeting held last spring are: Freda Hanzlik, President; Ruth Eggers, Vice-President; Lillian Amdurski, Treasurer; Nellie Olds, Secretary; Head of Basketball, Mildred Mayer; Head of Baseball, Marion Wilson, and Head of Track, Jeune Kelley.

The regular meetings of the association are held the first Monday of every month in the high school gymnasium, and enjoyable programs are prepared by a special committee each time.

The girls have gone out regularly for basketball this winter and have derived much enjoyment from it. This spring the association has planned baseball practice, track work, and other out-of-door events.

The association has a system of points by which members may gain insignia, and a certain number of points are required upon admission.

BASKET BALL

The girls have been out strong for Basket Ball this year. The class teams have been picked according to merit, sportsmanship and ability, and all of the teams are very fast and peppy. Every Monday evening there has been basketball practice. The first try-out was between the Sophomores and the Seniors which resulted in a victory for the Sophomores. The next try-out was between the Seniors and Juniors which was won by the Seniors. Similar try-outs were held between the Juniors and Sophomores, the Freshmen and the Sophomores which were both won by the Sophomore team. A game between the Freshmen and the Senior teams resulted in a victory for the latter team.

The Freshman team has not been out for practice as many times as the other teams, but in spite of this fact they have a very good team, with big prospects for a very good team next year. The Sophomores of Notre Dame and our Sophomore team met each other at a game in the High School gymnasium one evening, and in spite of our crack Sophomore basket shooters, Marie and Marion, and the splendid guarding done by Helen Sands, the opposing team won by a score of 20-21.

The final try-out of the teams resulted in a victory by the Sophomores, the Seniors winning the next highest honors. The members on the different class teams are awarded seventy-five points, which aid in earning the second Athletic honor, the Athletic pin.

All the time which has been given to the girls for the use of the gymnasium has been utilized, so far, in practice. The class teams being picked—the schedule for the class games is as follows:

Sophomores vs. Freshmen—May 8th.

Juniors vs. Seniors—May 9th.

Seniors vs. Freshmen—May 12th.

Sophomores vs. Juniors—May 13th.

Two games between the winners of these preliminaries will be played May 14th.

THE NIGHT EXPOSES

The day opens to us the power of our sun. The life giver of our planet. He gives us light, heat, energy, gives us all that we could desire, guides our planet in its path, never failing or erring. Think then, when night comes on, what greater wonders are brought to our view.

Night exposes to us millions upon millions of suns quite similar to our own. Where the eye fails to see, the telescope does, and it sees to almost the very bounds of the universe. How wonderful it is to think that each of these distant suns may possibly have one or many planets revolving around it, each teeming with life as we know it.

Is our earth the only one to have life, out of these millions of suns? We are not to be favored in God's great universe. A very incomplete universe it should be if but one world, our earth, was the only one to contain intelligent life.

That is not all that is exposed to us on a dark clear night. The powerful telescope and the camera shows us still greater wonders. The plates show nebula, those faint luminous spectres of the sky, scattered over vast stellar space. They seem to be hung there to be shaped into suns and planets, by the ruler of all nature. Great masses of highly attenuated gases, spectres indeed, they seem to be a city of lost souls, as they gleam there far out in the cold of space.

What is that in the deep background of the telescopic field? Two faint stars, one red and blue, they seem to be related. Yes they are, for the ever-watching eye of the astronomer and his never failing photographic plate have detected a movement of one star around the other as our earth revolves around the sun. He sees thousands of these pairs of binary suns, systems, triple and multiple. He sees the true handiwork of God in these systems, some of them thousands of times larger than our own, yes, millions, and some smaller.

All the wonders of the universe are not outside of our own small system. The sky patrol and innumerable comet seekers are continually on the watch for those mysterious spectres of our own system. They come into our system from the cold of space attracted by our central luminary, slowly at first they approach, closer and swifter they come, sweeping around the sun in graceful closed or open curves. As they approach they grow hotter, larger and more luminous, driving out material which makes the tail, which grows longer and longer as the sun is approached. Some go around and out into space. Never to return while others travel in orbits that bring them back again and again. Mysteries of the system, they most certainly are. Little is understood of them.

The universe as the night reveals to us, shows the work of a great Master who never fails. His one great law is Compensation or Conservation of Energy. The energy in one part of the universe where the stars are young is radiated out into places where new stars are being made. Stars systems, clusters, comets, meteors, and planets, are being formed in one part, while in another they are slowly giving up their energy. Why does man study Astronomy?—because he wants to know the world, the Universe above him, to learn the great laws which never fail, to master and control them and some day in the remote future he may master them.

A LEGEND OF THE WEE PEOPLE

Long, long ago, when the earth was young
And fairy folk bided the glens among,
A dear little maid in a cottage dwelt,
Close by the glens, and the wee folk felt,
That no one so merry, so dainty and sweet,
Ere danced o'er the moorland the morning to greet.
"We'll charm her," they said, "to our home in the glen,
And there shall she rule o'er the wise fairy men."
So the dear little maiden they carried away
And o'er all the elf land she ruleth today;
But she loves still the home land, the dear mortal earth
And longeth full oft the old cottage hearth,
Where she knelt by the fire on cold winter eves
And watched the red sparks whirl like bright autumn leaves,
So now, if you're wishing, your wish will come true
If you whisper it low to the violets blue;
For they're the queen's pages; the message they'll bear
Swift away to bright Mayland; and she who rules there
Will grant it to you for the sake of the child
Who played long ago mid the moor-blossoms wild.

THE BALLAD OF THE FAIRY FROG

MARGARET KROLL

There lived a sprightly fairy once,
Whose duty 'twas to ring:
The merry blue bells at the dusk,
And teach the frogs to sing.
At the beginning 'twas good fun,
To do this sort of thing;
Especially as it was, indeed,
The bidding of the King.
But when the novelty wore off,
The work began to pall;
What had been play, grew tiresome,
He wished to leave it all.
But first he tho't upon the frogs
He'd play a clever joke,
Instead of teaching them to sing,
He taught them how to croak.
The fairies held a ball that night
They called the frogs all in,
Invited them to sing and dance
Unto the violin.
So, having learned their lessons well
The frogs together croaked,
The king and queen and all the court,
Grew, really quite provoked.
At last the king spoke to his men,
"Send out, and catch the knave,
Bring him to me, and I'll attempt
To teach him to behave."
The guilty little fellow stood
Before the throne, at last,
"Now," said the king, "the hour has come,
To settle for the past."
"Your music is so original,
I think it is a shame,
That you should miss the benefit
Of listening to the same."
"So henceforth you will make your home,
Among our friends, the frogs,
And every evening in the swamps,
Give concerts on the logs."
Ah yes, this story's very true
For I have often heard,
The fairy frog in the summer time
As he croaks each dismal word.

TO LOUISE

What lies behind thy flashing smile,
Thy witching curls, that so beguile
My fancy's very heart away?
Tell me, thou mischief, thou mad fay?
What fairy lamp from elf in skies
Lit witchery's light within thine eyes
Who taught thee all thy wiles thou tease,
Thou merry, laughing, rogue, Louise?
So quiet art thou, so demure
With downcast eyes; what pranks mature
Beneath thy curly, satin thatch,
What further plans for mischief hatch?
Thy fascinating vagaries quite
Enchant my eyes, enchain my sight;
I watch thy dimples come and go
As o'er thy books thy head bends low.
Perhaps for aught I know thou art
Tipping e'er now an impish dart;
Perhaps within thy busy mind
I for thy target am designed.
Ah well thou sunny dainty sprite
I've all thy tricks forgiven quite
And from its place within my heart
Thy saucy charm shall ne'er depart!

—ALICE M. SMITH, '19.

TRUE BRAVERY

MARGARET BARLOW

The captain of the submarine,
A brave, brave man was he.
He watched the mother and her babe,
Adrift upon the sea.
"O save my child," the woman cried,
"For myself I do not care."
"No dogs or babes allowed on board
So that I would not dare."
"To let my husband know I'm dead
Take to him this ring."
"That, woman I would gladly do
'Tis such a simple thing."
He caught the diamond in his hand;
She sank beneath the wave.
"I'll keep it as a souvenir,"
Said the greedy captain, brave.

The pupils of the Chippewa Falls High School have enjoyed quite a social time this year which they appreciated very much. Of course the "flu" holiday interrupted things a bit, but after we got started we had a fine time. The Freshmen started the ball rolling with a class party on Jan. 16th and soon the other classes followed suit. After each basketball game, Mr. Findlay kindly consented to let the pupils dance and this was appreciated by everyone, as it has been several years since this had been allowed in school. Then, of course, there have been several "extra-special" parties such as the Junior-Senior Party, the Athena banquet given to the Novum Forum and the Novum Forum return party and the French party.

The annual Junior-Senior party was given in the gym on the night of Feb. 8th. Never in all the history of the school have the Seniors been so royally entertained. The music was perfect to a fault and the old gym was decorated so that we hardly knew it. The floor was the slipperiest that it had ever known to be and proved to be a terror to some of our beginners in dancing. However, no accident happened, much to the relief of all concerned. At seven-thirty everyone was in the gym and all was in readiness for the big night. A feature of the evening was the grand march led by Mildred Mayer and Francis Joas, winners in one of the games of the evening. Everybody wore a masquerade hat which added much to the general scene of merriment of the evening. A delicious lunch was served at ten o'clock. The Juniors certainly deserve their share of credit for being such able entertainers.

Another "extra special" party was the banquet the Athena girls gave the Novum Forum. On Saturday night, Feb. 22, the Athena entertained the Novum Forum with a grand party, starting at six o'clock with a picnic supper and lasting until eleven. The feature of the evening was the program presented by the girls. It was a rousing success from start to finish and the Athena have a right to feel proud of their entertaining abilities. Dancing was the chief amusement of the evening, for we had lots of time and everybody had a chance to dance with everybody else. Harlow Armstrong proved to be an unlimited source of diversion. We are puzzled yet to know what was the matter with him. Hugh Brenner entertained us with a (classical?) selection on his saxophone. At ten o'clock a light lunch was served, and at eleven, lights went out. The boys say that this was the most enjoyable affair they ever attended.

The French classes gave a party to raise enough money to adopt a French war orphan. All members of the French classes were given a certain number of tickets to sell which sold at twenty-five cents apiece. A number of tickets were sold. The gym was very prettily decorated with American and French flags and shields. On the balcony were tables for the older people who preferred to play cards rather than dance. Home-made candy was sold by members of the French class. The music was very good and was played with so much "pep," it made everyone feel like dancing. The party as a whole, was a great success and everyone enjoyed himself immensely. Enough money was cleared to adopt the same orphan that the class had adopted the year before.

On Friday night, April 7, the Novum Forum gave a return party to the Athena in the school gym. The good time started at eight o'clock, the music which consisted of piano and traps, furnished by the well known "Pep Twins," was faultless. After a few dances a short enjoyable musical program was presented by the boys. Merle Wilson, a former high school boy, the guest of honor, just returned from a year and six months' overseas service, presented us with an interesting description of the last dance he attended "over there." Then came more dancing and at ten o'clock ice cream and cake were served. The whole evening was characterized by a spirit of goodfellowship and merriment. Lights went out at eleven o'clock and all went away declaring the evening a splendid success in every way.

Gaze into the soothsayer's crystal
And see the school pass in review
And note mid the gay laughing shadows
There are gay laughing shadows of you.

Gaze deep. In the crystal is mirrored
From freshmen to seniors—each class,
Each past merry hour of school life,
Each bright happy laddie and lass.

And when you are wiser and graver
And the morning of life's past, why then
Old friends, old acquaintance, old mem'ries
You'll find in the crystal again.

CALENDER

- Sept. 2 —Back at the old grind.
Sept. 22—The boys get out for football.
Oct. 4 —The flu descends upon us and we remain at home to await proceedings.
No football this year.
Oct. 29—Gee, but its good to get back—It's a good thing we don't have to wear masks.
Nov. 8 —The bells announce false tidings. But we got a half-holiday anyway.
Nov. 11—We are awakened by the joyful news. United States has placed the final link in the Germanies chain. We celebrate today not only peace but victory.
Nov. 24—The Athena girls render a Thanksgiving program.
Dec. 19—George Barrington upsets the school with his skill in Chemistry. Phew!
Dec. 22—Xmas program. Wasn't Schuyler great? He made a fine heroine and Kenneth a good hero.
Jan. 1 —Resolved not to whisper in school for 15 minutes.
Jan. 16—The Freshmen have their first party.
Jan. 17—The first real mass meeting of the season.
Jan. 18—Chippewa plays Thorpe. Oh! you score! And that was some little dance afterwards.
Jan. 24—The Sophomores have their party minus the Seniors.
Jan. 25—Chippewa plays Eau Claire Y. M. C. A. Score 62 to 6. Whew!
Jan. 29—The first number on Mr. Findlay's famous lyceum course, Mr. Christensen talks on birds. Mr. Marcell-Operator.
Jan. 31—Freshmen vs. Notre Dame. The Freshmen are victorious.
Feb. 3 —Miss Enright asks Tom Tibbits if he can't get along without candy.
Feb. 4 —Jessie McCullough teaches a Freshman English class. Some teacher! Also second number of the Lyceum Course. Mr. Curtis and Miss Owen and the Senior Commercial Kids.
Feb. 5 —Examinations—Nuff Said.
Feb. 7 —Chippewa comes up against Menomonie and again is victorious. Who says we haven't got some team?
Feb. 8 —The Junior-Senior Party.
The Seniors: "Well say, those Juniors are all irtght. That was a peach of a party and the music and decorations were great."
The Juniors: "Oh, but I'm tired. I worked in the gym all day, but I don't care the Seniors liked everything and everyone had a good time."
Feb. 10—The new semester. Also the new Freshmen. Awfully cute little things, aren't they?
Feb. 14—Twice we are victorious over Neilsville. We haven't lost a game so far.
Feb. 16—Red, when asked in history to give the progress of cattle answered, "What kind of cattle, pigs, swine, horse or cows?"
Feb. 17—Miss Ritchie tells James Hart that he is a poet.
Feb. 19—Miss Ehnebom entertains the assembly with selections from the play "Experience."
Feb. 20—Junior Theatricals. They present a part of Midsummer Night Dream.
Feb. 21—The great game. And it was a great game even if we lost by a narrow score. We'll show Eau Claire what we're made of next Thursday.
Feb. 22—The Athena girls entertain the Novum Forum at a banquet.
Feb. 26—James Hart can not discover any-thing to study in Geometry.
Feb. 28—Did we win? Well, I guess we did. That last basket Eau Claire shot made a lot of trouble but you can't tell us that the whistle didn't blow

- before it was made. So that makes it 21 to 20 in our favor. Hurray!
- Mar. 1 —The "Frenchies" have their party. The gym was decorated with American and French shields and flags and again we exceed the time limit by dancing until eleven o'clock. Some little girls were seen playing cards with a crowd of boys. Naughty—Naughty.
- Mar. 4 —The lucky ones are chosen for the play, "All-of-a-Sudden Peggy."
- Mar. 6 —Well, they beat us again, but are we downhearted? No! Its no disgrace to be defeated under the existing circumstances by a school twice the size of Chippewa by such a close score
- Mar. 7 —The Senior Athletic Club Girls entertain the school with a little operetta.
- Mar. 10—Miss Enright enforces the "Thou shalt not smoke" law.
- Mar. 13—Mr. Findlay changes seats and mixes things up generally, but as Melvin says, "What's the use, you can't sit near your girl anyhow."
- Mar. 14—Chippewa wins the debate from Eau Claire, but loses to Menomonie.
- Mar. 17—We enjoy a St. Patrick's Day program and find out that, "There ain't no heaven and there ain't no hell."
- Mar. 18—Mr. Findlay announces that we may have the rest of the week for vacation.
- Mar. 18-21—The Monocle staff works night and day.
- Mar. 24—The under classmen have their pictures taken. Look pleasant, please!
- Mar. 28—Seven girls speak in a declamatory contest.
- Mar. 31—Continuation of the contest. Five girls are chosen out of today's and Friday's speakers.
- April 1 —Some boy springs an April fool's joke on Miss Fitz-Gibbon.
- April 3 —The girls defeat the caps and gown movement. Question—"What shall we wear?"
- April 7 —The Novum Forum entertains the Athena at a party. Everyone reports a good time.
- April 12—Some of our natty home guards, among them, Chuck, Bideau, and Brenner guard the War Tank.
- April 16—Hugh Brenner presents Miss Fitz-Gibbon with a token of affection in the shape of a tombstone.
- April 17—Mr. Findlay was seen to smile broadly at exactly seventeen and thirty seconds after one today.
- April 18—Miss Enright and the third period Chemistry Class built a bonfire behind the school and then tried to put it out with the fire extinguisher. They all succeeded in having a mineral shower but the fire did not go out till Chuck Griffin stepped on it.
- April 21—Oratorical and declamatory contest tonight. Wasn't everyone good?
- April 23—The U. S. History and Civics classes journey across the street to the court house.
- April 24—Harlow turns chicken and begins to cackle.
- April 25—The poor folks in the play are bullied (?) by that terrible Miss Fitz-Gibbon.
- April 30—Wasn't the play splendid? Everybody was just great. Pearl and Melvin couldn't have been better, and when it came to Anthony, Mrs. O'Mara and the spider, everyone just laughed and laughed.
- May 1 —Russell La Belle brings three rats to school and Miss Larson presents one to Mr. Findlay.
- May 2 —The seventh period French class breaks into song. They sing so beautifully that the assembly and Miss Miller's history class suspended operations to listen.

LOONEY LIMERICKS

There is a young fellow called Red
On account of the hair on his head,
The girls are all dippy
They think he's so nifty,
That spliffy young rooster called Red.
Our editor-in-chief's name is Lee
And a very fine fellow is he,
He works so they say ? ? ?
On this book every day
And at night he is courting Marie.
Another fine fellow is Brenner,
He's made of the same stuff most men
are,
He's a minister's son and a son of a
——?
That shocking young heathen called Brenner.
There was a young geezer called
Georgie,
Who thought that a chemist he would be;
So he fixed up a smell
In Hughes Brenner's ink well,
That promising chemist called Georgie.

The Senior class president's Dick
He's anything surely, but quick.
He's dignified, studious
Handsome, lugubrious;
Miss Fitz-Gibbons calls him a brick.

There is a young kid they call Lunney,
If it weren't for his face he'd look
funny;
His grin may be wide,
But his face is inside
Of that dear little thing they call
Lunney.

Ain't Bud Leahy a cute little fellow?
With blue eyes and hair of bright yellow;
The girls when he smiles
Will tag him for miles,
I believe they would tag him to Hell-o.
A lally palooza is Lyle,
He helps pile the scores up a mile;
His laugh one can hear
Way down to Eau Claire,
I guess that he copied Red's style.

BOTHERSOME THINGS

Though I know the plural of box is boxes,
The plural of ox is oxen, not oxes;
While the plural of ox is oxen, 'tis true,
The plural of one is not onen, but two;
The plural of foot I know is feet,
But the plural of boot is boots, not beet;
The plural of mouse is not mouses, but mice,
Still the plural of house is houses, not hice;
The plural of cows is cattle—quite nice—
But the plural of louse isn't lottle,—its lice.

SOME MORE JOKES

Miss O'Neil in English: "What do you associate with Bacon?"
Paul H., waking up suddenly: "Eggs."
Irmegard: "My beauty is my fortune."
Harold: "How long have you been broke?"
Pearl: "You seem to have a lot of trouble getting your whiskers to grow."
Kenneth: "Yes, and it's funny because my father always had a lot."
Pearl: "Well, perhaps you take after your mother."
Red: "Don't you think I would make a good football player?"
Marcella: "I'm afraid you would be penalized for holding."
Miss Miller: "What is a celestial body?"
Julien: "Oh, that is a minister or a preacher, isn't it?"
Richmond: "I had my picture taken this morning."
Walter B.: "Gee, who'd want to take a thing like that?"
Teacher: "What is Switzerland noted for?"
Ernest R.: "Swiss cheese."
Teacher: "Oh, something grander, more impressive, more tremendous."
Earnie: "Oh, then, limburger."

ADVICE TO UNDERCLASSMEN

Never raise your hand when you know something which all the others have failed upon. It shows lack of consideration for the feelings of your fallen brethren.

Laugh at any jokes the teachers see fit to crack even if there isn't a point. It is merely common courtesy to show your appreciation of pedagogical humor.

Never interrupt a teacher with hard questions. You should have sense enough to know beforehand that you can find the answer in your book.

A small agitation when called upon to recite is pleasing to the teacher. It is a suitable way of showing the awe inspired by his or her presence.

Never let your glance wander during examination. It fails to inspire confidence in the heart of your instructor.

Don't shine. It is bad form. A great display of learning is vulgar. Not only that, but it is distasteful to the other members of the class.

By JULIEN LUNNEY.

OUR MODERN CICERO

Upon the High School rostrum
Fred Curtis firmly stands.
In his eyes a desperate glitter
While he wildly waves his hands.

Proudly swells his heaving bosom,
Shy and shrinking bashful boy
Just to educate the "Masses,"
Gives him deep and lasting joy.

So although it pains and grieves him
In the "Public Eye" to be,
When an orator is needed,
There Eleanor's joy you'll always see.

THE SLEEPER

He prob'ly was up late last night—
I don't know,
Sat up with a sick friend, mayhap,
But never a fifth period passes away
Without Pauly taking a nap.
On one side of the assembly he sits
out of sight,
And snores till his neighbors forsake
him,
But he dozes and nods and we suffer
and wait
Patiently for the bell to awake him.
Till then,
Sleep my little one,
Sleep my pretty one,
Sleep.

Smart Senior: "Why doesn't Miss Ritchie wear her wrist watch? Do you know?"

Freshie: "No, why?"

Smart Senior: "She found a bed bug in it."

Freshie: "Why, how on earth did that ever happen? How under the shining sun did a bed bug get into her watch?"

Smart Senior: "Why, between the ticks, of course."

HAVE A LAUGH

Little Harold L., having climbed up to the pinnacle of the roof of a very steep shed, lost his footing and began to slide with terrifying swiftness to the point where the roof swept gracefully off into space.

"Oh, Lord, save me!" he prayed. "Oh, Lord, save me! Oh, Lord, never mind, I've caught on a nail."

Soph Boy: You're as full of air as a music box!

Soph Girl: Yes, but I don't go with a crank.

IF

If a woman was caught throwing ashes into the street would the city sewer?

If a lamp fell off the table would the candle stick?

If Latin is a brush is Geom a tray?

If there was an explosion in Davenport, would it Rock Island?

If a knife and fork made love, would a tea spoon? Yes, if the coffee stood its ground.

If a hen sat on an axe would she hatchet?

If I went bathing in Wissota, would a mountain peak?

Dental Examinations

Owing to the "Flu" this year, the Examinations in the schools were not started until Jan. 1st.

In the past two years a great deal of Dental prophylactic work has been done by the school nurse, Sue Normann, in the Dispensary of the Edward Rutledge Building, and she reports a big change in the Conditions of children's mouths since the time this work was started in our schools.

The following figures are taken from Jan. 1, 1919 to April 1, 1919:

Number of pupils examined .....	658
Number of pupils in good condition .....	185
Number of pupils who had teeth cleaned .....	253
Number of pupils being treated .....	36
Number of upper six year molars (decayed) .....	109
Number of lower six year molars (decayed) .....	158
Number of six year molars to be extracted .....	16
Number of baby teeth (decayed) .....	180

ADVERTISING SECTION

DON'T BE SATISFIED.

The most dangerous thing in the world is
"SATISFACTION."

Don't be satisfied with yourself—be better.

Don't be satisfied with your job—work for a better one.

Don't be satisfied with a small bank account—work for a larger one.

There are no satisfied successes.

Special Styles For High School Men.

It is worth emphasizing that the young men get special styles here. We know their needs; we've provided liberally for them. Not regular young men's clothes, but distinctive and specialized types for men of their years---Kuppenheimer's Clothes, National Student Clothes and other famous makes notable for High School Lads.

You'll see how successfully the makers have undertaken the making of these clothes so popular with young men. Value has been more than a quarter of a century the trademark of this store. Once you've known the satisfaction of their perfect detail in style and proportion, there will be no other for you.

Our line of men's furnishing is the most complete line in the city.

Card of Thanks

The management of the Monocle wishes to express its appreciation to the business men who have seen the advisability of using our advertising space. It's up to you students to vindicate their judgment. They boost us, let's boost them.
